

UNIVERSITY LIBRARIES POLICY FOR COMMUNITY BORROWERS

Community borrowers are members of the general public who are not currently affiliated with the University of Arkansas and are thereby assessed a fee to checkout materials and use interlibrary loan services. The fee is $40.00 per year, payable to the University of Arkansas. Current members of the Arkansas Alumni Association will be issued circulation privileges with no charge.

Community borrowers are allowed general circulating materials for a loan period of four weeks with a limit of ten items at one time. Variations exist in loan periods for special materials. All materials are subject to recall if needed by another person after two weeks. Overdue fines and charges for lost or damaged materials are the responsibility of the card holder. Failure to make payment on invoiced materials will result in the blocking or cancellation of privileges. The individual requesting interlibrary loan service is responsible for paying any fees that may accrue as a result of obtaining material from other libraries, returning materials late, or losing, or damaging materials.

The privilege fee does not include remote access to proprietary databases for which the Libraries have contractual agreements. However, individuals may use most databases when present in the library.
